

IRSE
INSTITUTION OF
RAILWAY SIGNAL
ENGINEERS
AUSTRALASIA

Become an IRSE member

Whether you are just embarking on a career in signalling and telecommunications or are an experienced industry practitioner, membership of the IRSE can open new doors of opportunity, broaden your knowledge and enhance your professional status.

IRSE members enjoy a number of benefits, including:

- IRSE News magazine
- Technical meetings and seminars
- Yearly international technical convention
- Technical visits
- Online Professional Development system
- Members' area on IRSE website
- Discount on IRSE publications
- Discount on local meeting registration fees

Why Join the IRSE?

The IRSE is the only International organisation for railway signalling, systems engineering and telecommunications professionals and those in related disciplines. It exists to expand their knowledge, advance their skills and to encourage high standards of professionalism for the benefit of members and the health of the rail industry generally. The IRSE offers unique mix of professional development and networking opportunities.

The Australasian Section of the IRSE provides this through:-

- A varied program of regular National and Local technical meetings
- Specialist seminars and training on rail specific areas of interest
- Awards and financial prizes to support further professional development and education
- Certificate, Graduate, Diploma & Masters courses in Railway Signalling & Telecommunications
- Access to a worldwide body on rail knowledge including a monthly magazine
- International Conferences, Publications, and TrainingNetworking with other likeminded individuals

How to join the IRSE in just a few easy steps

- Visit the International IRSE website www.irse.org and click on the Membership Tab or collect a membership pack at a technical meeting.
- Review the grades of membership, select the appropriate form and complete it.
- Arrange for two IRSE members to sign the form for you (see the Australasian Website for contact details or arrange this at a local IRSE meeting)
- Send off your completed forms to the address below for processing

Where do you find out more information?

Visit the local IRSE Australasian website www.irse.org.au for further details on

- Membership Documents (to download)
- IRSE & University Courses
- Awards Available to Members
- Events, Technical Meetings and Conferences to attend
- Publications, Technical Papers & Presentations

- Learn More
- For further information and details of how to apply, visit the Membership page on the IRSE website at www.irse.org.au

For further details contact the IRSE Secretary via email: secretary@irse.org.au